

How to Find Tests, Scales, and Instruments

The CSU Stanislaus Library does not have a separate collection of tests, but we do have a number of sources in our collection relating to tests, scales, and instruments. Some of these sources contain the full text of the tests themselves, while others describe the tests and provide information about them.

The list of sources below is divided into two sections: sources for full-text tests instruments and citations, reviews, and abstracts to tests. Call numbers or access information is included for each source.

In addition to the sources listed below, try these search strategies to find more on your topic:

- Browse the shelves in reference and in the general collection for nearby call numbers
- Find the University Library Catalog record for a source and click on the subject tags for similar resources
- Search the University Library Catalog using key terms and variants, such as “test or scale or measurement” AND “adolescent or youth”
